

CBC News Nova Scotia in collaboration with Baseball Nova Scotia will be producing a Nova Scotia Athlete of the Day segment between 5:00 – 5:30 p.m. weekdays.

This segment featuring young athletes began last year with Soccer Nova Scotia and was called Soccer Stars. Many viewers asked, "Why not include other sports like baseball?" So we are happy to include young baseball players in our Young Athlete of the Day segment, along with the soccer players, this summer and into the fall on CBC News Nova Scotia at 5. From Monday to Friday, we will feature the Young Athlete of the Day (up to age 17) on the show. We'll randomly select the athlete to appear on CBC News Nova Scotia at 5.

In order to participate here's the information we need about each player:

- Name
- Age
- Hometown
- Team
- Position
- A jpeg photo of the player in their team uniform

Please forward your player's photo and information to greg.guy@cbc.ca.

Above is an example of the player's segment that CBC News Nova Scotia featured last summer with the Soccer Stars. The baseball player's photo will be similar and will be called Athlete of the Day.

When applying for the program please include your email address so we can contact you in advance and let you know when your young athlete will be featured on the news show.

Let's work together to shine a spotlight on the young Nova Scotians playing their sport of choice in our province. Don't Forget to watch CBC News Nova Scotia at 5 on television or at www.cbc.ca/ns